Per Capita Market Income in Appalachia, 1999 Compared with the U.S. Average NEW YORK WISCONSIN MICHIGAN PENNSYLVANIA оню INDIANA ILLINOIS WEST VIRGINIA VIRGINIA TENNESSEE NORTH CAROLINA SOUTH CAROLINA GEORGIA 100 Miles MISSISSIPPI ALABAMA Per capita market income is a measure of an area's total personal Percent of the U.S. Average income, less transfer payments, divided by the resident population 27.5% - 49.9% of the area. The percent of the U.S. average is computed by dividing the county per capita market income by the national average and 50.0% - 74.9% multiplying by 100. U.S. average = $24,819 Appalachian average = $19,210 75.0% - 99.9%

Map Created: June 2002.

Data Source: U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis, REIS, 1999.

100.0% - 122.4%